NUMBER 283.

HE URGES ACCEPTANCE

President Mitchell Lays Before Miners the Plan of Arbitration.

DESIRES AN EARLY RESUMPTION.

Convention of the Three Anthracite District Workers Effects an Organization at Wilkesbarre and Proceeds to Deliberate.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 20.—The anthracite mine workers' convention met in this city at the Neshitt theater at 10 o'clock today. About 1,000 delegates are in attendance, the three affected districts being fully represented. Many of the delegates are instructed in various features of the strike settlement, but a majority of them will follow the advice and judgment of President Mitchell. There is nothing on the surface that gives the slightest indication that the convention will not vote to send the men to work this week, with the probabilities still in favor of Thursday as the day of resumption. A noticeable thing among the delegates was their cheerfulness. It was quite evident to observers that they are glad to get together and decide to return to work after the weary idleness of more than five months.

All of the delegates who were spoken to regarding the action of the convention appeared to have no fear that a hitch might occur which would disarrange the present peaceful trend of affairs. A good many of the delegates say they have instructions on certain matters which they will place before the delegates. The principal question outside of the great question of accepting or rejecting President Roosevelt's proposition will be that of strikers getting their old places. A large number of the men fear that in the general rush to return to the mines some may fail to get back. They want some assurance from the convention that they will be able to get the positions they occupied before the suspension was ordered. It is likely this element from the three districts will join forces and make a concerted fight on the floor of the convention for some specific action. In the face of the fact that the operators are on record that they will not dismiss one man who stood by them during the struggle, it is going to be a serious problem to solve.

Shortly after convening, the convention effected a permanent organization. President Mitchell was elected chairman and National Secretary W. B. Wilson was selected as secretary, having as assistants the district secretaries. President Mitchell in his opening speech to the delegates laid the plan of arbitration submitted by the president of the United States before them for action. He recommended that it be accepted and the men return to work as quickly as the coal companies can provide work.

Clark Will Accept.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 20.—E. E. Clark of Cedar Rapids, Ia., grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors, who was chosen as one of the arbitrators of the miners' strike disputes, was here Sunday. He said he had not yet received official notice of his selection, as he has been on the road for two weeks, but expects to find it awaiting him when he arrives home. Mr. Clark said he would certainly accept, if for no other reason than to avoid the complication and delay that might result from one of the commissioners declining.

Expects Quick Action.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 20.—District President Nichols of the United Mine Workers, when asked how long the convention would probably last, said he expected it would adjourn some time Tuesday. He expressed the opinion that there would not be any very great opposition to the acceptance of the propositions.

Ships Wait For Coal.

New York, Oct. 20.—The sailing of two ocean steamships was delayed through the late arrival of their supplies of coal. The North German Lloyd steamship Grosser Kurfurst was to have sailed for Bremen, but her coal supply did not arrive until half an hour before the time set for her departure. It was then decided to postpone the sailing of the vessel. The other steamship delayed was the Holland-American liner Potsdam.

Dewey Elected President.

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—At a meeting of the board of governors of Thomas Jefferson Memorial association of the United States, held in Independence hall, Admiral Dewey was elected president. The board consists of one member from each of the 13 original states and District of Columbia.

WARMLY CONTESTED

Is the Advance of the British Against the Mad Mullah's Forces.

London, Oct. 20.—The foreign office has received an undated dispatch from Colonel Cobbs, commanding one of the columns of British forces operating against the Mad Mullah in Somaliland. The dispatch was forwarded through the British vice consul at Berbera, Somaliland. The British forces engaged were composed entirely of native troops and levies. Colonel Cobbs says: "My force reached Eregu this morning. When about one day's march north of Mudug it was attacked in the thick bush. Two advances were made and the enemy was beaten back in the morning. Their losses were heavy and we captured 100 rifles. Our force then proceeded to collect animals for transportation purposes and to join the detachment at the stockade camp. In the afternoon a reconnaissance was made and, after sharp fighting, the enemy was again driven off. I deeply regret to report the following casualties: Colonel Phillips and Captain Angus and 50 men killed, and about 100 men wounded. The latter include Captain Howard and Lieutenant Everett, but both are doing well."

German Catholics Protest.

New York, Oct. 20.—Over 400 German Catholics, representing 50 German Catholic organizations in the state of New York, met and endorsed resolutions of protest against the public schools of the United States and the exclusion of the friars from the Philippines. The resolutions, which had been adopted by the national convention of the Central Verein of the United States at Evansville, Ind., last month, declared in effect that all the religion, morality and civilization in the Philippines today was due to the friars; that they made a nation of barbarians Christians; that they raised the nation from polygamy to monogamy and raised degraded women to the level of man.

Suit Caused a Sensation.

Delaware, O., Oct. 20.—The filing of a suit in the Franklin county courts by George Brown Allen of this city against Garry Meeker and Claude Meeker, who do a brokerage business in Columbus under the name of Meeker & Meeker, in which it is sought to recover $23,758.89, alleged to have been lost by the plaintiff in speculation, has caused a sensation in this community. Mrs. Allen, the plaintiff, is the daughter of the late Beverly W. Brown, who was one of Delaware's capitalists. She became greatly interested in stocks, and of late years has dealt largely in the market. Her suit is based on the allegation that Meeker Brothers conduct a game of chance contrary to the statutes.

Battle With Whisky Boatmen.

Memphis, Oct. 20.—In a fight with whisky boatmen at Sterling, across the river from Memphis, Sheriff Strong and Deputies William Wallace and Parker Bravner were seriously shot, and were compelled to send back for reinforcements. A large posse of heavily armed men have gone to the scene and a conflict is looked for at any time. For some months past this whisky boat has been a source of great trouble and annoyance at different points in Arkansas and Mississippi, and has been run out of nearly every place it has frequented. It has been in charge of various owners in and out of the small river harbors, and has evaded the revenue and other officers.

Conditions In Haiti.

Port-au-Prince, Haiti, Oct. 20.—The town of Gonaives is quiet. General St. Felix Collin, commander of the government forces there, is maintaining order. There are still a great number of refugees in the foreign consulates. The family of the late Admiral Killik is in the German consulate. The marine guards which were landed from the foreign warships last week to protect the consulates have gone back to their vessels. The United States cruiser Cincinnati has left here for the Port de Paix, the French cruiser D'Assas has left for Port-au-Prince and the German cruiser Falke has gone to Cape Haitien.

Close Call.

Omaha, Oct. 20.—A serious catastrophe was narrowly averted at the first Christian church, when the 500 people who gathered to hear Rev. Allen Wilson of Irvington, Ind., barely escaped being thrown into the basement, 25 feet below, by the giving way of rotten timbers in the floor. The vast audience passed out quietly, however, upon being notified of their peril, and all escaped unhurt.

Columbus, O., Oct. 20.—The state fish and game commission has completed a tour of the state, where they distributed 25,000 fish in various streams.

ARETREAT, NOT A ROUT

Venezuelan Revolutionists Hold President Castro's Position Impregnable.

FAILED TO DRAW HIS FORCES OUT.

Both Sides Suffered Terribly In the Protracted Engagement—Blunder on the Part of the Rebels Saved the Government.

Willemstad, island of Curacao, Oct. 20.—One of the leaders of the Matos revolution in Venezuela, who is at present in Curacao, has furnished the following details and explanation of the retreat of the revolutionary army from La Victoria. He says the rebels only abandoned the fight after being convinced that La Victoria was impregnable, and after President Castro had refused to come out and attack the revolutionists outside of La Victoria. Twice did the revolutionary general attempt to force President Castro to take the offensive and twice the president refused. When the rebel reinforcements arrived at La Victoria President Castro and his forces were located at a point on the German railroad. The rebels made a detour of the city and cut off the only road of retreat open to the government forces. They were then short of ammunition, and had it not been for the arrival of a train bringing them half a million cartridges, it is believed that Castro's forces would have been annihilated. Preparations for their retreat had already been ordered.

The revolutionists stationed near Caracas, some 1,200 men under the command of General Ramos, are alone responsible for the retreat of General Mendoza. They permitted the train carrying ammunition to the government to leave Caracas and reach La Victoria. This train had an escort of only 100 men. The men under Ramos did not attack it, nor did they destroy one of the 80 bridges between Caracas and La Victoria over which the railroad runs.

An added proof that the government suffered terribly in the La Victoria fight from the repeated attacks of the rebels is found from the fact that President Castro does not pursue General Mendoza. The latter's plan in withdrawing from La Victoria is to oblige President Castro to abandon the positions he holds there. The rebels suffered losses, but the government did also. President Castro's forces are reduced to 3,100 men, while General Matos still has 9,000 men in the field. It was not a rout but a methodical retreat. In conclusion the rebel officer said that the revolutionists within a few days would be found near Caracas.

Schools in United States.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The annual report of the commissioner of education has just been submitted to the secretary of the interior, and shows the grand total of pupils in schools, elementary, secondary and higher, both public and private, in the United States for the year ended June 30, 1901, was 17,299,230, an increase of 278,520 pupils over the previous year. Of this number the enrollment of pupils in institutions supported by general and local taxes furnished by states or municipalities was 15,710,394, as against 15,443,462, the number reported for the previous year. Besides these there were certain special institutions, like city evening schools, business schools and schools for trades and vocations, all enrolling nearly half a million pupils. Adding the enrollment in these special schools to that of general education, the aggregate is something over 17,750,000 of our population that received education for a longer or shorter period during the year ending June 30, 1901.

Russia Leads.

Washington, Oct. 20.—A bulletin by the United States geological survey on the subject of Russian and American petroleum production says since 1897 Russia has produced more petroleum than the United States, last year the output in Russia being 85,000,000 barrels and in the United States 69,000,000 barrels. The facilities for handling the large Russian product are at present crude, costly and wasteful. The markets are far away from the production.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Oct. 20.—The steamer Guatemala, belonging to the Pacific Steam Navigation company, which was detained here owing to a conflict between the company and the board of health, has sailed after its agents had paid the fine imposed on four steamers of the company for alleged concealment of yellow fever cases. The company's protest will be considered and the matter will be diplomatically arranged between the British and Ecuadorean governments.

CLAIMED A MURDERER.

Wanted For Crime Committed Eight Years Ago.

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—A specim from Atlanta, Ga., says: Atlanta officers are positive that George Burrus, the United States army soldier arrested at Fort McPherson, is George Taylor, wanted in Sullivan county, Mo., for the murder of the Meeks family in 1894. The man enlisted from Butte, Mont., but now admits that he came from Sullivan county, Mo. Burrus or Taylor, had letters and pictures and other documents which indicate that he is Taylor, the fugitive. He is said to have confessed his crime to fellow-soldiers who betrayed his confidence, causing Burrus' arrest. Among Burrus' effects were two fine book marks "G. J. T." He says they belonged to a friend. The man made no resistance, but denies that he is the murderer.

The murder of the Meeks family, for which William and George Taylor were convicted and sentenced to be hanged, was committed on George Taylor's farm in Sullivan county, Mo., on the night of May 10, 1894. The crime was committed when Gus Meeks and his family were leaving the country with $800 and a team having been given him for that purpose by the Taylor brothers to secure themselves from prosecution on various criminal charges, of which he was cognizant. The Taylor brothers escaped, but William was recaptured and hanged.

May Break Deadlock.

Dover, Del., Oct. 20.—Governor Hunn and Secretary of State Lawton have prepared the proclamation enrolling of an extraordinary session of the legislature. Governor Hunn has asked the Republican conference representing the two factions of the state who have been dealing with him in the matter and Senator Quay, who is said to represent the administration at Washington, to give him final assurance that some compromise will be made during the extra session bringing about the election of two Republican United States senators for three and five years respectively and one Republican congressman from Delaware. Both the Republican and Democratic organizations are said to be prepared to get their men into Dover on the jump next Monday if necessary.

Training Ship's Long Cruise.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—Within two weeks the United States training ship Mohican will sail for a long cruise with a crew of about 250 midsmen, going as far as Sydney, Australia, before starting on her return cruise. It has been customary for the Adams and Mohican to make Mizatlan or Honolulu their farthest point, but in this instance in addition to visiting south coast ports and perhaps Honolulu, the Mohican is to reach far into the south seas. All the men are between the ages of 18 and 25 years. The Adams, which will make a cruise with apprentices, with Wake Island as her most distant point, will probably sail in a few days.

Takes In Georgia.

New York, Oct. 20.—The membership of the Society of the Cincinnati was materially increased by the addition to the general society of the provisional society of Georgia. The admission took place at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, with Colonel Asa Bird Gardner of the Rhode Island society in the chair. The Georgia society became extinct in 1796, and its permanent fund which was transferred to the general society in 1851 has been restored to it. Every one of the 13 states that are members of the general society was represented at the ceremony.

Americans Head the List.

Rome, Oct. 20.—The marked change of opinion as to the sanitary condition of Rome in summer is shown by statistics just issued, showing that in July, August and September of the present year 9,734 foreigners visited Rome, Americans heading the list with 3,020, closely followed by Germany, who numbered 2,875. Formerly Rome was deserted during these months and the hotels were closed because of the belief that the heat was unbearable and on account of the malignity of malaria.

Palatial Home Burned.

Wellsburg, W. Va., Oct. 20.—Fire partially destroyed the palatial summer home of J. B. Vandergrift, a prominent Pittsburger, entailing a loss of about $100,000. The fire started in the laundry and it is believed to have been caused by the overheating of the natural gas pipes.

Bridge Collapsed.

Constantinople, Oct. 20.—Fifteen persons were immersed and five of them drowned as a result of the collapse of the bridge over the Golden Horn, connecting Constantinople with the suburb of Galata.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

James Younger, the Noted Outlaw, Dead Up in Minnesota State.

HAD A MOST STRENUOUS CAREER.

Was With Quantrill's Guerrillas During the Civil War and Participated in Many Stirling Adventures After Its Close.

St. Paul, Oct. 20.—James Younger, one of the famous Younger brothers, compatriots of Jesse James, committed suicide by shooting. Younger was recently paroled from the Stillwater penitentiary, where he and his brother Coleman were serving life sentences for participation in the Northfield bank raid in 1876.

James Younger was the youngest of three brothers, Robert, Coleman and James Younger, who between the years 1866 and 1873 gained great notoriety through their association with Jesse and Frank James. The band, headed by Jesse James, was charged with innumerable robberies of banks and railroad trains, in the execution of which many desperate encounters took place and a number of men were killed. The members of the band had served through the civil war, fighting on the side of the Confederacy with Quantrell and his guerrillas. The scene of most of their alleged post-bellum depredations was the state of Missouri and those states adjacent thereto, but in September, 1876, the band entered Minnesota, traversing the state as far as the little town of Northfield, in Rice county. There, on Sept. 7, after terrorizing the people on the street, an attempt was made to loot the First National bank. Cashier J. L. Heywood, who was in charge of the bank, made a plucky fight to preserve the funds of the institution from the robbers, and during the encounter was shot and killed, not, however, until he had wounded one or more of the raiders. The citizens of Northfield, quickly recovering from the panic into which the advent of the raiders had thrown them, armed themselves and started in pursuit of the desperadoes, who, baffled at the resistance they had encountered, had mounted their horses and were attempting to escape. A week was spent in their desperate retreat, the pursuing posse of citizens time and again coming into contact with the bandits and exchanging shots with them. The raiders were handicapped in their retreat by the wounded, whom they were endeavoring to carry along with them, and finally, in a thick wood, the posse succeeded in surrounding them. A battle ensued in which three of the members of the gang were killed and the three Younger brothers were captured. Jesse James and the remainder of the outlaws succeeded in making good their escape.

All three of the Younger brothers had been wounded in the series of battles that had marked their retreat, and to this day carry the bullets fired at them by the plucky citizens. The prisoners were brought speedily to trial and on Nov. 21, 1876, pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree, this plea, it is said, having been entered in order to escape conviction by a jury which would have involved the infliction of the death penalty. The brothers were sentenced to the Stillwater penitentiary to serve a life sentence.

Under the terms of their parole the brothers were not to leave the state, and since their release they have been engaged in business of various sorts. James Younger had suffered much from old wounds, and several months ago an operation was performed for the removal of a rifle ball from his back. He left a letter to the press, saying despondency had inspired him to take his life.

It is true, as Senator Allison declares, that free trade would help the trusts, why is it that the trusts are opposed to free trade? And why is it that they always put up the coin to prevent a revision of the tariff? Probably Senator Hanna or Senator Allison can enlighten the country on this seeming paradox.

THE BULLETIN's article in reference to filling the three vacancies in the city Board of Education was based on the opinion of City Attorney Wood, and was published at the suggestion of a member of the Board whose desire is simply to have the vacancies filled as the law prescribes. The editor of the BULLETIN is not personally interested in the matter one way or the other. Judging by the Ledger's labored effort and the activity of certain members of the Board, they much prefer that the vacancies be not filled by the people until a year hence.

ROWLAND B. MABANY, twice a Republican member of Congress from New York and former Minister to Ecuador by appointment of President Harrison, has come out for Bird S. Coler, Democratic nominee for Governor of the Empire State. He says that the trust evil is sufficient to justify his course, and arraigns the party with which he has been affiliated because of its friendliness to the beef trust and the coal trust and other oppressive monopolies. Mr. Mabany denounces Gov. Odell's political record, and says he has "for five months observed the steady growth of the coal famine and the distress of the people who honored him with their highest office. Not until the necessities of a campaign and probabilities of defeat loomed before his political vision did he make a late and lame attempt, not to serve the people, but to save himself."

Nothing serves better to illustrate to what ridiculous and inconsistent ends the Republicans have come to than the utterances of Senator Lodge, President Roosevelt's closest political friend, on the tariff question in the speech which he delivered in Boston recently. In the course of that speech he said that removing the tariff kills competition. He says that to take the duty off of an article lessens the competition on that article. Even the proverbial wayfaring man, though a fool, knows that such a statement is absolutely without the pale of truth. What have the Republicans all along claimed for the protective tariff? Have they not, in season and out of season, extolled the virtues of the protection idea and declared that it kept out the foreign competition? Was not the theory of protection to keep out competition and to hold up prices by keeping out that competition? How, then, is it that these same Republicans will tell us that removing the tariff duties keeps out or kills competition? Will the American people permit a party to slap their intelligence in the face in such a manner and not rebuke them at the polls? Can the Republican party say yea and nay to the same proposition and still be believed? Is it not time that the people begin to study this question out for themselves when they find a party playing on both sides of the fence at the same time? The primary object of the tariff is to prevent competition and to force the consumer to pay a higher price for the article "protected" than he would otherwise have to pay.

TO SPEND MILLIONS.

Kentucky Central Division of the L. and N. to Be Reconstructed Throughout Its Entire Length.

Improvements involving a total expenditure of three millions of dollars, are to be begun at once upon the Kentucky Central division of the L. and N. railroad system. This money is to be spent in the straightening out of sharp curves, in the entire reconstruction of bridges upon the south end of the division, between Paris and Livingston, Ky., and in the purchase of motive power. In the way of motive power the company has ordered for delivery within a year twenty-five of the latest improved freight engines, termed "skyscrapers," designed and constructed with a view to drawing trains of fifty or more loaded cars. It is understood that these extensive improvements have been decided upon at this time in order to have the division in first class shape by the time the Jellico-Knoxville extension, now being pushed to completion, is finished.

The Northern and Southern Synods of the Presbyterian Church in Kentucky adjourned at Lexington Friday after one of the most successful meetings in the history of both bodies. The most important work was the disposition of the question of the establishment of a woman's college. Both synods agreed to leave the question open for another year. Lexington was the only city that had a tangible proposition to make, and the other towns which wish to secure the site of the proposed college succeeded in securing the postponement. Each synod appointed a committee of eight members, which will receive propositions for the proposed institution from towns which wish to secure it.

A disastrous freight wreck occurred Thursday afternoon on the L. and N. between Paris and Austerlitz. The engine plunged over an embankment and turned completely over, the entire crew being injured. Conductor Martin struck a window and had the front of his skull fractured. He almost bled to death before medical assistance arrived from Paris on the wrecking train. Fireman Davis was internally injured and suffered a number of fractured bones. The engineer was also badly hurt. The injured men were taken to hospitals at Paris and Lexington.

Work on the Mutual Telephone line from Tuckahoe to South Ripley and Dover will be rushed.

SHOOTING NEAR MAYSICK.

John Ramsey, Colored, Probably Fatally Wounded Saturday Night at "Banion's Hill."

John Ramsey, colored, of Mayslick, was shot and probably fatally wounded last Saturday night at a supper given by a negro woman named Graham, at "Banion's Hill," about midway between Mayslick and Helena Station.

Two young negroes, named Charles Ball and Charles Page, are accused of doing the shooting. They made their escape and are still at large. It is said the shooting was wholly unprovoked.

Ramsay was shot twice—once in the abdomen and once in the breast. His wounds are thought to be almost necessarily fatal. He has been in the employ of Mrs. John T. Wilson as coachman for several years.

The wife of Dr. W. H. Lawwill, of Boyle County, died Saturday after a short illness and was buried Sunday at Danville. She was a Miss Mefford, formerly of this county, and was Dr. Lawwill's second wife.

"The Power of Truth," at Washington Opera House to-night, is an exciting melodrama with a strong vein of humor. It is a dramatization of a story by Kate Mortimer, of Indiana life, and tells how a heroic girl rescues her father from a drunkard's grave, and from the power of the villain. The strongest role is said to be that of William Moreland, the father. The heroine is also done excellently and reveals distinct emotional ability.

Offerings of leaf tobacco during the week showed a slight increase over last week, while receipts were considerably diminished. The general quality of the offerings was also somewhat inferior, and there was a noticeable falling off in the amount of fancy leaf and selections in the breaks. Prices on these latter types are somewhat easier, although not quotably lower, due in a large measure, it is believed, to the fact that there is an unusually good proportion of fine leaf in the new crop, which will soon make its appearance in the local market.

Good bright trashes under $5.25 were strong and active throughout the week, while the red and common bright tips commanded a good manufacturing demand at sustained figures. Old smokers (1900 crop) and common and good medium cutters of the same crop are growing exceedingly scarce, and will soon be off the market. Common and medium red lugs from $4.50 to $6, and the good color sorts under $7, were probably the best features of the week's sales.

Advices from the growing sections go to show that the early cutting, generally speaking, is curing up satisfactorily. There is not so much complaint of house burn as last week, and while it is light in body and color is on the whole satisfactory to packers. The late cutting is rather dark, as much of it had not reached full maturity.

Offerings and receipts will continue light for the balance of the month, and little, if any, change is looked for in prices until the new crop comes on the breaks.

LIVE STOCK REVIEW.

Receipts of Cattle, Sheep and Hogs in the Cincinnati Market for Week Ending October 18th.

The receipts of cattle the past week show a total of 5,502 head, against 5,788 head the previous week, and 6,784 head two weeks ago.

On last Friday and Saturday the market was steady, without any material change from the condition of last Thursday's market. On Monday the market was active for good beef, but 10 @15c. lower on medium and common stock. Since then the market has been quiet and about steady, although the top prices have come down about 10c. per 100 pounds.

The receipts of hogs during the week were 14,901 head, which is 1,548 head less than a week ago, and 523 head more on the corresponding week last year. From March 1st to date the receipts reach a total of 396,801 head, and shipments 137,440 head, leaving a net supply of 259,361 head, against 314,050 head the corresponding period a year ago.

Until Monday the market was well supplied, and prices sagged. Monday's and Tuesday's markets were firm, with 10 @15c. advance. Wednesday's prices fell off 5 @10c., in sympathy with outside markets, but made up the loss by a gain of 5 @10c. In prices to-day (Thursday), but there is a net loss during the week of about 25c. per 100 pounds.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were 8,382 head more than last week, amounting to 4,187 head. The receipts of sheep and lambs have become much smaller recently, and prices for sheep during the past few days have been firm at last week's closing prices, while lambs have advanced 25c. per 100 pounds.

R. J. McCracken, of Mt. Olivet, sustained a loss of about $700 in a fire which broke out in his store the latter part of last week.
